

CHEMA LOHMAN NARCISO

Innovating creatively applied to sales.

ABOUT ME

I am a responsible person with an entrepreneurial character. Consider myself very creative, decisive and ingenious, and I apply this perfectly, so that my work, whether in a team or alone, develops successfully.

Trained in different fields; Art (photography, videography and cinematography), front-end (design) or sales (business, managing big sales campaigns).

Extensive experience in the customer service sector, with speed and quality of service being one of my biggest concerns.

EXPERIENCE

FINETIC PROJECT // 2019 - Present

Founder

As the founder of this financial education project; I share and create content for Spanish-speaking audiences through audiovisual content. I carry out the thumbnails, editing, production and research of my audience's niche and then apply it in sales funnels that I make profitable with affiliations.

APPLE // 2019 - Present

Business Expert

As a business expert I handled large workflows with clients. Offering a long repertoire of services and a unique experience for each of them. Supporting a portfolio of business clients, and doing most of my work in a high pressure environment. Purchase management of +250 clients per month.

APPCO // 2016 - 2019

Business Regional Manager

I built a career from scratch starting as a specialist (My first week on the job I became a national sales high roller.) In sales to getting promoted as a regional manager for this fundraising company. In it I carried out marketing campaigns for different NGOs nationwide in Spain, organizing commercial teams of between 20 and 30 people in each of them.
